

The airways and free press belong to the public. I want rules to protect them and am dismayed that the FCC is considering otherwise. I think it is important that we have information from diversified sources.